

US to Hand Over Hilldale to County Authority

28 in Area Pay Gambling Levy of $250

Twenty-eight Pottstown area organizations and individuals have paid the special $250 Federal tax for the use of coin-operated gambling devices.

This is an aerial view, made yesterday, of Hilldale homes project in Lower Pottsgrove township, just southeast of the borough limit. The Federal Government, which owns the land and apartments, announced yesterday it is giving up the project. It will offer the entire project as an outright gift to Montgomery County Housing authority, which then will have to decide whether it can afford to continue the project or whether it will have to be evacuated. There are 176 families—an estimated 650-700 people—living in the project now. Hilldale was built nine years ago as "temporary" housing for war workers. Because of the post-war housing shortage here, the Government delayed its original intention to have the project torn down at the end of World War II. Complicating Hilldale's none too bright future is the fact the State is demanding that a second means of exit from the second floor apartments be installed in 27 units.

Inter-Service Club Tables Discussion on Purchase of Truck

Pottstown's Inter-Service club tabled discussion yesterday on the possible purchase of a new truck for the local Salvation Army Citadel.

The subject was tabled "for a couple of months" because of the approaching United Fund drive.

Club Secretary Ralph H. Spare said seven representatives of the Inter-Service club's members present at the luncheon meeting in the Shuler House restaurant felt a campaign for money for the truck would be inopportune now.

Capt. Robert Flinn, of the Pottstown "Army," attended the meeting and agreed with the club on the postponement of the discussion.

Also postponed, but only until next month, was consideration of revised by-laws for the Inter-Service club. A. E. Willauer, chairman of the club, accepted the tabling motion because of the absence of 14 other representatives of borough organizations.

THE INTER-SERVICE club comprises the presidents and two members each of the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, Optimist, American Business and Soroptimist clubs, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Walter Heise, Rotary president, will present the by-laws revision at the club's next meeting, Oct. 28.

Profesant Churches Celebrate New Bible

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Protestant churches united tonight for a huge, nationwide celebration of a new Bible.

Special services were called in 3400 towns and cities across the country.

The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA estimated an attendance totalling more than two million from 150 denominations.

"The occasion points ultimately to what should prove to be the greatest development of the century for all Christendom," said Dr. James Muller, of Yale university Divinity school.

He is one of 32 Biblical scholars who have worked for 15 years under authorization of 40 denominations, in producing the new "revised standard version" of the Scriptures.

It was published today—with a first edition of more than a million copies—the biggest in book publishing history.

Egypt to Use Officers in Government Jobs

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 30 (AP)—Army headquarters said today "a number of qualified officers" will be detached to serve in ministries and other Government departments.

Army strongman Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib is now premier of Egypt. The Army has been the main force behind the government since the ouster of King Farouk the past July.

The Army announcement said officers will work to "establish of Italy's Red Cross for several years."

Crash Injured Three

One little girl suffered severe head injuries and two others also were hurt when these two cars collided at the intersection of High and Bailey streets yesterday afternoon. The child, Burma Bissell, 5, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor M. Bissell, 2 Pine court, driver of the station wagon (right) was rushed to Children's hospital, Philadelphia, for removal of a piece of metal embedded in her skull. Clair Wunderlich Jr., 22, of 170 South Rohland street, driver of the other car, and Mrs. Mary Deyscher, 54, 948 Queen street, passenger in the station wagon, were treated at Memorial hospital.

Deyscher, 54, 948 Queen street, a passenger in the station wagon. All three were taken to the Memorial hospital in the Good Will ambulance manned by William Tosto.

Hospital authorities reported that both Wunderlich and Mrs. Deyscher were treated and detained for further observation. Mrs. Deyscher had her chest X-rayed in anticipation of fractured ribs, while Wunderlich was treated for lacerations of the forehead and shock.

hospital reported the little girl in "good" condition last night, but felt they would have to operate sometime during the night.

Dr. James A. Griffiths, Memorial hospital radiologist, who took X-rays of the girl, said last night that she had a "compound depressed fracture of the frontal bone."

The physician explained that this would necessitate an immediate operation to remove the object imbedded in her skull and small fragments of bone which may have been depressed into the cavity.

Motor Patrolmen Earl J. Rhoads and Joseph Thees, of the Pottstown police, investigated the accident. Edward Seeders drove the Good Will ambulance which carried the girl to Philadelphia.

First Priest Takes Seat in History of Italian Body

ROME, Sept. 30 (AP)—For the first time in history, a priest sat as a member of the Italian Senate today.

At the opening session of the Italian upper house the speaker, Senator Giuseppe Paratore, said two new members had been named senators for life—The Rev. Luigi Sturzo and Prof. Umberto Antonio Bianco. The nominations were applauded by the assembly.

Sen Sturzo, an 80-year-old priest, is the founder of the Christian Democrat party in Italy and a leading European sociologist. Sen Bianco has been president of Italy's Red Cross for several years.

More individuals and organizations in Pottstown paid the tax than in any other community in Montgomery county, and more than in any Chester county community with the exception of Coatesville.

Smith also released the names of those who purchased $50 "occupational" tax stamps for wagering in the two counties. No one from the Pottstown area was on this list.

Here is the complete two-county list of those who paid the tax for the use of gambling devices, by communities:

6-Week Course for Lay Leaders to Open At Transfiguration Lutheran Tuesday

The parish house of Transfiguration Lutheran church will take on an academic atmosphere Tuesday when a six-week training school for lay leaders opens.

The leadership training school is sponsored by the Norristown Conference of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania. All Lutheran churches in the Pottstown area are co-operating.

Classes for Sunday School teachers and other interested laymen will be held each Tuesday night from 7:30 until 9:30.

Expert Landscaper To Give Advice on Lay-Out of Garden

An expert landscaper and head salesman for a leading eastern rose growing firm has consented to advise in the laying out of the Pottstown rose garden on the Memorial hospital's grounds.

Joseph Selagy, member of the local Rose society and chairman of the planning committee for the garden, reported last night that George Hart of the Conrad Pyle company, Westgrove, Pa., will assist in the project.

Hart has seen the plans for the garden and has indicated his approval of 4-foot wide straight walks amid 6-foot beds of roses.

Selagy reported that the project will get underway shortly after the first frost in November. Members of the society will do the planting under the local supervision of Evan M. Sibson, Hill school gardener.

It also was announced that the society will hold its anniversary banquet tonight at the Norcor grange hall.

Henry Riebel, noted horticulturist, will speak to the group on "Roses, Gardens and Landscaping."

Duke of Edinburgh Gets Promotion From Queen

LONDON Sept. 30 (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II tonight promoted her husband, the duke of Edinburgh, to number two spot in the British realm — right next to the queen herself in royal protocol.

The move—made by the queen's warrant and announced in the official London Gazette — was seen as preliminary to making Philip prince consort. That is the title devised a century ago by Queen Victoria for her consort Albert.

The Gazette said the queen's warrant dated Sept. 18 declares and ordains that the duke "shall henceforth upon all occasions and in all meetings, except where otherwise provided by act of Parliament, have, hold and enjoy a place of pre-eminence and precedence next to her majesty."

$237,304 Estate Left By Pottstown Banker

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 30 — Edward I. Storn, Pottstown banker who died June 28, 1951 left an estate valued at $237,304, according to an inventory filed in the estate office of the register of wills.

The schedule showed that he held 1114 shares of stock in the National Iron Bank of Pottstown valued at $26,205. His home at 22 N. 9th St. was appraised at $20,000.

Mrs. Ella G. Storn, widow, was named sole beneficiary of the estate.

Extension of Pipe Is Laid at Hillcrest

An extension of the 6-inch water main at the Hillcrest development area was completed yesterday.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden reported.

The 500 feet of pipe were laid in a U-shape starting on Oakdale street to North Hills boulevard and then south to Beechwood street.

The extension of the water main to lay the water main on Oakdale street only, but a recently proposed construction of homes on North Hills boulevard altered the project.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A DISTINCTIVE brick veneer house with an unusual hip roof, this design 6R-91 is a flexible plan. A folding partition in the children's room, separates boy from girl for privacy, yet opens up one big play area. The architect, Elmer Gylleck, 120 So. Grove Ave., Elgin, Ill., has kept the house strictly rectangular for construction economy. The house covers 1377 square feet and contains 22,293 cubic feet. Alternate kitchen plan is shown for building without a basement.

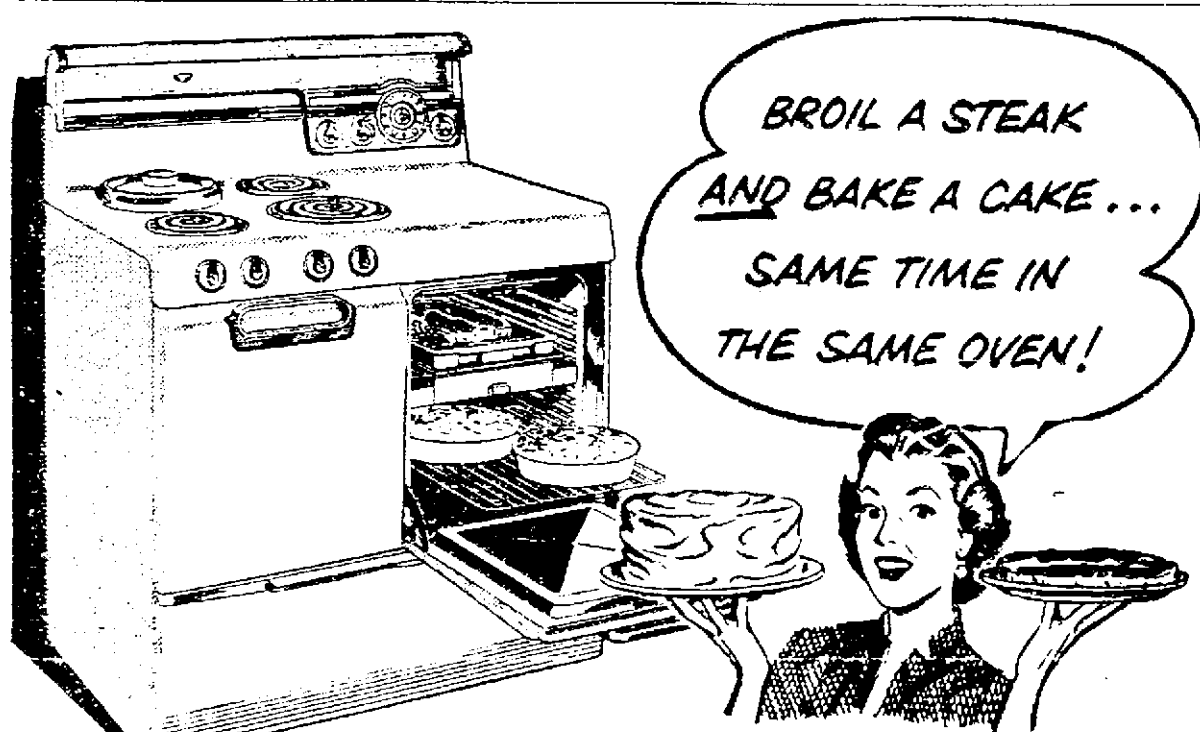

(Further information and plans available from architect)

German Educators Visit Norco School; Find Classes 'Small'

Two German educators, brought here by the State department to study American schools, visited North Coventry elementary school yesterday morning. They told Paul H. Grim, supervising principal, that they were particularly impressed by the small size of the classes. At Norco, there are no more than 32 children to a class. In German elementary schools, there are 50 to 60 children to a class. The visitors, Dr. Ernst Schutte and Professor Hildegarth Pleus, who live in the American zone in Northern Germany, also had a chat in German with the two Norco high school seniors from Germany who were brought here by the Brethren church, Ingrid Drenckhahn and Margaret Suchomel.

THE GERMAN educators were accompanied by Dr. Earl Sykes, head of the department of education at West Chester State Teachers college, and by Louise Rhenius, a Senior at the college who had lived in Germany. Norco was their only stop in Chester county yesterday. They went to Lower Merion after lunch in the school cafeteria.

Deathwatch Kept For Sick Elephant

CANTERBURY, Eng., Sept. 30 (AP)—Salt, an 85-year-old elephant, lay on a sickbed of straw in a water-logged field tonight, while old circus comrades and town folk kept a sorrowful deathwatch. The 5-ton animal, familiar to circus goers here over the past 40 years, is suffering from "acute exhaustion" and old age. Veterinarians, paying hourly visits, have been intravenously feeding the gentle old lady from Burma in an effort to keep her alive. On Sunday Salt wandered off while the circus tents were being pitched. She stumbled into a muddy lake and was mired down. For seven hours she sat there, until she was hauled out with a mobile crane. But then she lay down again—just plumb tuckered out by it all. For the last two nights, her trainer, Abdul Karim and his wife, have kept a sleepless vigil by the animal's side, covering her with tarpaulins against the constant drizzle. The animal has not eaten anything solid since the mishap.

Bookkeeper Sentenced To 3 Years for Theft

BALTIMORE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Esther Bair Hess, 34-year-old lumber yard bookkeeper formerly from Altoona and York, today was sentenced to three years in prison for taking $11,389 from her employer. She was convicted on the embezzlement charge in July, but sentence was delayed while an investigation was made in connection with her plea for parole. Her husband, Bernard S. Hess, was acquitted. Probation officers reported the Hesses, both of whom had been married previously, had piled up heavy debts after they were married two years ago but continued to spend lavishly.

9 Area Youths Hope to Pass Navy Physical

To paraphrase an old cliché "Buddies will be buddies." That sums up the feeling of nine Pottstown area youths who will leave home Tuesday hoping to join the Navy.

All have had the necessary parental permission papers signed and are to report to Reading at 6 a clock Tuesday morning. From there they will be transported to Philadelphia for a physical examination.

The exam is that all the youths hope will not be the hurdle on which one of them will stumble and be forced to return home while his buddies with whom he has traveled for a number of years don Navy uniforms.

THE YOUNG men are Richard Heath 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heald, 53 Ledge road, West Chester; Lamar Bohner 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie H. Bohner, 8 Walnut street, and Thomas Fiorillo 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice T. Fiorillo, 724 Adams street.

Also Leonard Almond 17, son of Mrs. Anthony L. Almond, 538 42nd street, and Mr. Almond, 861 1st street, St. Louis; Richard Firing 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Firing, Ringing Hill; John Gibson 17, son of Mrs. Edna Gibson, 28 South Charlotte street, Robert Gibson 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Gibson, 385 North Evans street, Bruce Missimer 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Missimer, 861 North Warren street, and Robert Edinger, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances E. League, Boyertown RD 2.

Heath said last night, "The fellows all thought about joining the Navy a couple of years ago, that the enlistment idea 'just blossomed'."

Since the youths were under age at that time they could not enlist, but as soon as the youngest of them reached the right age, 17, they lost little time in obtaining the proper papers for their parents to sign.

HEATH ADDED that originally there were 12 boys in the group but one entered the Air Force and other failed to pass a preliminary physical examination and a third was unable to obtain his father's permission for his enlistment.

All the enlistees except Almond and Edinger attended Pottstown Senior High school, but only Firing was graduated in June 1952. Almond attended West Pott-grove High school and Edinger was graduated from Boyertown High school in June 1951.

Two of the youths' friends, Gerald Myers and Thomas Ingram, have promised to drive the prospective "gobs" to Reading early Tuesday morning.

RELIEF GRANTS HIKED

Enlisting Together

The nine Pottstown area youths in the photo above represent the Three Musketeers tripled. They have been friends for years and Tuesday morning they will join the Navy together. They have been informed by a Navy official that those who pass a physical examination in Philadelphia that day will be sent together to the Navy's Bainbridge Md. training center. The young men are (front row from left) Richard Heath, 53 Edgewood street, Lamar Bohner, 8 Walnut street, Thomas Fiorillo, 724 Adams street, and Leonard Almond, 538 High street, (back row) Richard Firing, Ringing Hill, John Gibson, 28 South Charlotte street, Robert Gibson, 385 North Evans street, Bruce Missimer, 861 North Warren street, and Robert Edinger, Boyertown RD 2. All except Firing and Edinger are 17 years old. Firing is 19 and Edinger is 18.

Kidnaping Frustrated By West Berlin Police

BERLIN Sept 30 (AP)—West Berlin police tonight frustrated an attempted kidnaping by East German Communists.

Several armed East zone police officers tried to drag a West Berliner across the American sector border and pursued him 10 yards into the West sector when he broke loose.

West Berlin police from a nearby station rushed to the scene and forced the Communists to retreat by pointing their rifles at them.

2 Editions of Bible Compared at Meeting

Pottstown Lions last night listened to a literary comparison of the new and King James editions of the Bible.

Edward T. Hall, headmaster at The Hill, explained the new Revised Standard Version has lost some of the poetic flow of word, but is more clear than the King James version.

He said many modern savings date back to the Bible and the ideas for numerous modern books were derived from the Bible.

Sixty members were present in the Eagles Home association. President Albert E. Wilauer was in charge.

US to Give up Hilldale

which to get started on the job or face prosecution. The authority operates the Federally owned Hilldale homes.

The State official said the State was determined that these second exits be put in the apartments to protect the residents from fire hazards.

The Federal official in New York City said with equal determination: "We cannot and will not spend any more money on that project."

The Federal official said that in his opinion a State ruling would not be binding on a Federally owned project. It would be binding on an authority owned project.

Thus the authority in deciding between the two exits, the Federal administration's gift offer also would have to decide what to do about the 27 units where the State is demanding that extra fire exits be installed.

MALONEY SAID the State could put up notices harring people from living in the homes until State fire protection measures were carried out.

He added that his office would not take any such strong action if the authority made a serious attempt within the next few days to work out a settlement.

The State entered the picture early the past winter after The Mercury demanded editorially that steps be taken to prevent deaths by fire there such as the ones that almost occurred on Jan. 18.

On that date, smoke filled one of the 27 apartments that have only one fire exit for each two families on the second floor. Two children were dropped in blankets from second-floor windows. Two men had to be rescued from a back room where they were trapped in panic.

IN ANSWER to The Mercury editorial, Paul Bean, Norristown State inspector, visited the apartments. On Jan. 30 the State Department of Labor and Industry ordered the authority to have second fire exits built where there were two or more families on the second floor.

The State and Federal offices, carrying on lengthy correspondence with the Federal office in stating that although it tries to comply with fire safety measures it was not obligated to comply with this requirement.

On the broader question of the entire project's future, the Federal official said: "This field office has made a very definite determination that we have no further need of this project."

If the authority members accept the gift offer Prescott continued, "The authority could treat it (the whole project) just like they would their own property."

If the authority turns down the offer, Prescott said, the PHA would take steps to abandon the project, first freezing vacancies (preventing any new families from moving in), then beginning the orderly removal of tenants.

IN REMOVING tenants, Prescott said the PHA would have to follow the law, getting court orders for eviction of families that did not move voluntarily.

He emphasized in this connection that the PHA would do everything possible to avoid imposing hardship on tenants.

He added that abandonment of the project undoubtedly could be done with less hardship to tenants if the authority did it.

He explained that the authority could remove tenants as gradually as it wanted, since it was not under compulsion to carry out provisions of the rules under which PHA must exist.

Religious Film to Be Seen By Congregation of Church

A new religious motion picture, "More for Peace," will highlight the annual Fall "Family Night" celebration of Spring City First Evangelical and Reformed church tonight.

The meeting will be in the auditorium of Memorial hall, beginning with a congregational covered dish supper at 6:30 o'clock. Members and friends who cannot attend the supper were invited to come for the movie, which will begin about 8 o'clock.

Those attending the supper have been asked to bring table service and a covered dish. Members of the Youth Fellowship group will arrange the tables and serve supper.

Produced by the denomination, the movie tells the story of the Grayson family—a family from a small midwest town.

Bill, the husband, returns from the Korean war and too at first rebels against the church because some of its members refuse to live with refugees from Europe living in the town. In time, Bill's wife helps him to lead the church into a program of Christian service for the new members of their community.

Stowe Prognosticator Picks 8, Including Tie

William (Buck) Rowman, Grosstown road, Stowe—the only entrant to pick a tie in the Norco-Collegeville tussle—walked off with first prize in The Mercury's second grid guessing contest.

The Stowe resident, who finished close behind Steve Ondo and Wally Berkey in the past week's initial contest, had the winner's circle all to himself this time with eight out of ten good choices.

He was the only picker with less than three wrong.

The runnerup was Frank Warisak, 163 North Evans street. He missed the three ties that baffled just about the entire field, but his scores were the closest of any of the nine that had seven right.

The Norco-Collegeville (6-6) tie, Notre Dame and Penn (7-7) and Purdue and Penn State (20-20) on masse stalled each and every amateur prognosticator with the exception of Rowman and Joe Gofus, another Stowe resident.

Gofus hit the ND-Penn draw, but missed the other two ties and three more games to boot to finish far down the list.

Rowman is entitled to four seats to the Pottstown High-Phoenixville tiff on Oct. 18 at Franklin field—the Trojans' next home game.

Warisak draws a pair of tickets to the same encounter.

Rowman's Scores (Aerial scores in parentheses):

Norco 0 (0), Collegeville 0 (0),

St. Norbert 14 (14), Penn 14 (14),

St. Joseph 14 (14), Penn State 14 (14),

Washington 21 (21), Indiana 7 (7),

Michigan State 21 (21), Michigan 7 (7),

Duquesne 21 (21), TCW 14 (14),

Marquette 14 (14), Auburn 7 (7),

Villanova 21 (21), Clemson 14 (14),

St. Lawrence 14 (14), Cornell 7 (7).

Eight winners—Buck Rowman, Carl Ten Haken, Ken Zerk, The Rev. L. Samuel Sroufe, Wallace Barker, Larry Haver, Ed Doherty, John R. Hane and Michael J. Briel.

Six winners—Eugene Grayson, Ray Vandenburgh, William Westover, Richard Meyer, John Chomaski, John Flaherty, Jack Turon, Tommy Boushager, Gerald Markley, Gerald R. Holick, P. F. Gofus, David Lee, Edward James, Paul Poler, Paul Ochs, Ambrose Tighe, Harry Haver Jr., A. Richard Seibold, Mildred Reinhold, Al Reynolds, Mildred Herlinger, David Hare, Gene Long and Joe Korman.

Five winners—Steve Missimer, Wayne Drezan, Paul Pisher, James Joseph, Edwin Haver, Dick East, James Nienolds, Max Nier, Lillian, Dick Gervine, Virg Emma Lou Stouck, Steve Ondo, Marie Reinhold, Ed Eckert, Joe Gofus and Bob Clements.

Four winners—Frank Felt, L. T. Seibert, Ben Yohn, Ken Brumler, Paul Stenzel, Bob Trojanski, Maurice Reinhold, Bill Shaper Jr. and Al Pandie.

Three winners—David Hamrick.

THEIR TIMES ranged from Reithold's 14:37 to 15:45 for Thomas.

Luke Sewell Would Take Pirates Job

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (P-B).—Luke Sewall, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said today he would be glad to become manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Shortly afterward, General Manager Branch Rickey of the Reds, said he has no idea when he will name a field manager to succeed Billy Meyer.

Meyer, who quit the Red post after five years the past Saturday and has been offered a job of "trouble shooter" with the Pirates, is here to attend the World Series with Rickey.

"I wouldn't say yes or no on Sewall," Rickey declared. "Matter of fact, Meyer and I are sitting here right now discussing a successor. I would not say no or yes on anyone. I don't know when we will name Meyer's successor. It might be during the Series or much later."

SEWELL, ex-major league catcher who managed the American League's St. Louis Browns several years, said he wants to stay in baseball and "wouldn't mind taking the job with the Pirates as long as everything was right."

Commenting on Rickey's program to build up a team with youngsters, Sewell said:

"He has always been successful with young ball players. He has the right idea. You can't get anywhere with the players who fail year after year.

TRY AND STOP ME BY BENNETT CERF. THE first time the public had a chance to examine a painting by the great French artist, Henri Matisse, was in 1905 when the owner of a Paris gallery grudgingly consented to hang one in a new exhibition he was sponsoring. He wasn't sure that he approved of the strange, new technique of young Matisse, but vaguely recognized that he might be talking to a genius in the making. "Nobody will buy your painting," he assured Matisse, "and I probably will be roundly criticized for including it in my show, but we'll hang it in the rear and see what happens."

Huge Crowds Greet Ike on 3d Trip South

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 30 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower swept into the Southern States for the third time today and stirred wave after wave of applause when he said of the Truman regime: "We have an Administration which may go down in history as the scandal-a-day Administration."

A crowd estimated by Columbia Police Chief L. J. Campbell at "nearly 50,000" massed in front of the white-pillared State capitol to hear Eisenhower tear into the Democrats on a wide front of campaign issues.

Truman Says Ike Did Harm With Views

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—President Truman charged today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "did a great deal of harm" to the United States with his views on Russia immediately after the second World War.

The President said the Republican presidential nominee "ought to be honest enough to admit his blunders about the Russians." Eisenhower's views as commanding general in Europe, Truman said, left this country unaware of Russia's threat to world peace.

Truman, carrying his whistle stop campaign on behalf of Gov. Adlai Stevenson across Montana, used a red platform talk at Havre to mount another barbed attack against the GOP standard bearer. Eisenhower headquarters at New York declined comment.

At one point in his Havre talk, Truman said Eisenhower was "glad to get on my band wagon for foreign policy."

IN A departure from his speech, Truman said that in 40 years of politics, "I have been in some rough and tough campaigns," but none involving the "lies and slander" spread by the Republicans this year.

"And before I get through with them, they'll wish they hadn't done it," he snapped.

Police Chief Virgil Mooney estimated the Havre turnout at 3000.

Leaving his train at Chester, Truman drove 25 miles over a dirt road to participate in ground breaking ceremonies for the Tiber dam.

Truman pressed a button which set off an explosion turning the first dirt for the dam. When he touched off the blast, Truman quipped "that is what we are going to do to Eisenhower."

Vote Reveals Bevan's Trade Union Strength

MORECAMBE, Eng., Sept. 30 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan rocked the Labor party's Old Guard today with a voting victory that knocked two Moderates off the National Executive committee and unmasked Bevan's strength even in old line trade unions.

The tough-talking Leftist's forces in the party's Constituency wing—the section made up of local labor parties and clubs throughout the nation—ousted ex-foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and former Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton with a bumper vote.

The seats went to two of Bevan's lieutenants, foreign affairs expert Richard Crossman and Harold Wilson. They "took a walk" from the former Labor Government with Bevan the past year in protest against watering down of Socialist principles and have followed him since in a strongly anti-American line.

The Constituency delegates also voted Bevan back to membership on the Executive along with his three sidekicks, Mrs. Barbara Castle, Tom Driberg and Ian Mikardo.

THE SEVENTH seat allotted to the Constituency wing was filled by James Griffiths, former colonial secretary and wary middle-roader.

The victory still left the Bevanites in the minority on the 27-seat Executive, but it showed the followers of ex-Prime Minister Clement Attlee that the fiery Welshman has a big and growing support in the party's non-trade union membership.

Russians in Korea
SEOUL, Wednesday, Oct. 1 (AP)—A high U. S. Eighth Army officer said Monday 5000 or 6000 Russian technicians and advisers are in North Korea and probably man anti-aircraft guns that fire on A. I. S. American B-29's which had planes.

This is the first time a high U. S. official has made such a statement. There has been much speculation that Russians fly jets in North Korea.

If true, much of the Communist anti-aircraft defense in Korea is an all-Russian operation, since the source said the guns were made in the Soviet Union.

HOUSE GROUP TO CALL SMITH FOR TESTIMONY

Committee Will Ask General What He Knows About Red Infiltration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The House un-American activities committee decided today to call Gen. Walter Bedell Smith for testimony on what he knows about Communist infiltration in Government agencies.

The announcement came just after Smith, chief of the super secret Central Intelligence agency, had packed a ship bound away from his statement that he believes Reds have penetrated every American security agency, including his own CIA.

The general, elaborating on his original remarks, said merely that it was necessary to "assume" such a thing has happened.

At the same time, Republicans took up the testimony as a major campaign issue.

A STATEMENT by Chairman John S. Wood (D Ga.) of the House committee, issued in Los Angeles, said:

"The committee voted unanimously to subpoena Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, requiring him to appear before it Oct. 13, 1952, in Philadelphia to give the committee the benefit of any information of Communist infiltration into agencies of the Government of the United States, especially his own."

Smith in his new statement said that despite "the most unusual precautions" CIA has never found a Communist in its ranks in the United States. But "we have to act on the assumption that our opponents are at least as smart as we are," he commented.

In a question-and-answer session with newsmen Smith added a comment that "Communists have been pretty thoroughly eradicated in Government."

FROM WHERE HE stood he could see the streets jammed tight with people for many blocks.

He said a whispering campaign has begun to the effect that, if elected, he will close and otherwise curtail military installations in the Southern States. Another report, he said, is that he will cut soldiers' and sailors' pay.

Eisenhower spoke from a flag-decked rostrum on the steps of the capitol. He wore a light gray suit and he waved and smiled and gestured to the crowd, acknowledging the tumultuous salute.

IN INTRODUCING Eisenhower today, Brynes called him "a son of the South, born in Texas."

The governor, a life-long Democrat, said "South Carolina is out of the bag." He referred to assumptions that Southern States normally are in the Democratic bag.

He said of Eisenhower "In this hour of peril, I would rather have a professional soldier than a professional politician as president of the United States."

Touching one of the main campaign issues, Brynes declared, "The people of South Carolina know that the job of cleaning up the mess cannot be entrusted to the men who made the mess."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said the end result of Smith's testimony—and of an amplifying statement Smith put out later—is to "make ludicrous the claim of Republicans" that the task of nabbing any Communists in Government "is a simple job which can be done easily if it is turned over to them." (The Republicans).

After his testimony, Smith issued an amplifying statement saying he was acting "on the assumption" that Communists had penetrated security organizations "somewhere along the line from

2 WOMEN ARE HOSTAGES Deranged Gunman Surrenders

EAST PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 30 (AP)—A deranged gunman who escaped three times from a mental hospital today robbed a Providence bank of $51,239.30 and later killed one policeman and wounded another before surrendering outside the home of two terror-stricken women he had held as hostages.

The gunman identified by police as Louis DiFraia, 27, of Providence was wounded in the arm in a pitched battle with a score of policemen before he abandoned one of his hostages, dropped his death-dealing .22 calibre rifle and surrendered with arms thrust skyward.

DiFraia was taken to a hospital where he was manacled for the night to two police guards. Attaches said he suffered from a head wound—evidently a bullet crease or club inflicted—in addition to the arm bullet wound.

He was charged with murder and intent to murder. Police said he will be arraigned in court tomorrow if his condition permits.

INVESTIGATORS RECOVERED all but $1578 of the loot in the gunman's automobile and outside the bank.

Dr. John R. Regan, superintendent of the Rhode Island State hospital for mental diseases, said DiFraia is suffering from a "serious type of mental disorder."

Tear gas was used to dislodge the gunman from the women's home—five miles from the branch bank of the Industrial Trust company, where he had staged the bold foray.

The doctor added that the patient escaped from the hospital three times—the last time in July. Slain by the .22 calibre repeating bullet whizzed by Rebello's head.

Truman Likens Stevenson to FDR

President Truman, speaking in Fargo, N. D., on his whistle stop tour, Sept. 29, told the gathering that Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, is "the most promising young leader we have had in a generation" with a background comparable to that of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Adlai Shoots Remarks at Use Ike Might Make of Smith Issue

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 30 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson today issued a statement obviously aimed at preventing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower from making any political capital out of Walter Bedell Smith's assertion that he assumes Communists have penetrated every US security agency.

Smith, chief of the super-secret Central Intelligence agency (CIA), so testified yesterday on a Washington deposition hearing in the $2,000,000 libel-slander suit filed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R. Wis.) against Sen. William Benton (D. Conn.).

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said the end result of Smith's testimony—and of an amplifying statement Smith put out later—is to "make ludicrous the claim of Republicans" that the task of nabbing any Communists in Government "is a simple job which can be done easily if it is turned over to them." (The Republicans).

After his testimony, Smith issued an amplifying statement saying he was acting "on the assumption" that Communists had penetrated security organizations "somewhere along the line from

Controls Removed By Government for Some Food Items

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Government today removed controls from canned pork and beans, tomato catsup and sauces, canned field corn, pickles and numerous other food items.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said it acted to comply with a Congressional amendment passed the past June. This amendment bars OPS from retaining ceilings on "fruits or vegetables, in fresh or processed form."

In addition to the foods decontrolled under this provision, the agency also took price lids off a wide range of so-called luxury or specialty items.

Among these exempted items, which OPS said have little effect on living costs, are bouillon cubes and powders, bottled eggnog, maple syrup, fried bacon rinds, mince meat, dehydrated gravies and cones for ice cream.

OPS acted in July to exempt most of the basic canned and frozen fruits and vegetables which it said were "clearly and unequivocally" covered by the Congressional amendment.

No Monthly Cramps... NOT EVEN ON FIRST DAY

You may be suffering needlessly from the functionally-caused cramps, pain and weak, "no good" feelings due to menstruation! For—in actual tests by doctors—Lydia Pinkham's Compound stopped or gave amazing relief of such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases... even on the very first and worst day of the monthly period!

Lydia Pinkham's modern constitution! So get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—or need, improved Tablets with added iron. See it taken throughout the month—it doesn't relieve those cramps, backaches, dizziness, you just better before and during your period!

Or—if you suffer from functional "hot flashes" or "change of life," and out of control "mood swings," get Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. It had a quieting effect on uterine contractions that may cause menstrual pain!

Armistice Plan Will Go to UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—The United Nations is discussing with several close allies a double-barreled plan for the UN assembly to urge the Communists to accept immediately an armistice in Korea or risk a wider UN embargo and condemnation.

A diplomatic source in close touch with the situation said today the Americans are considering this course in the Assembly opening Oct. 14.

1. Secretary of State Acheson would put before the Assembly—as soon as it has elected officers and opened general debate—a resolution by which the Assembly would express its approval of the UN proposals at Pannumun, would urge the Communist Chinese and North Koreans to accept them. This resolution would be sent to Peiping and Pyongyang by the Assembly president.

2. The Communists would be given a reasonable time to answer, perhaps after the US presidential election. If they do not answer or if they reject the appeal, the Americans want the Assembly to approve a resolution providing for stronger embargoes against Communist China and North Korea, for a strong condemnation of those two regimes, and for UN members who have not yet sent forces to Korea to chip in troops for the fight.

'Eden Plan' Passes First Test; Endorsed By Europe Assembly

STRAUSBOURG, France, Sept. 30 (AP)—The European Consultative assembly endorsed by 102-0 today Britain's "Eden Plan" for co-ordinating efforts to achieve European unity within the 14-nation Council of Europe.

By the vote, the assembly adopted a proposal aimed at bringing it was to take the same terms, or bringing together the council and the six continental nations that have established the Schuman coal-steel won from the North and handed community as a model for relations with other communities, such as the budding European Defense Community.

There was one abstention on the roll call—that of Italy's Giuseppe Caron. He objected that the "Eden Plan" would create confusion in the whole effort to get European nations together as a team.

The plan now goes to the council's upper house, the Committee of Ministers, where unanimous approval is required. (The Assembly is the lower chamber of the council, which has only debating powers.) Then the plan is subject to action by the national parliaments of the member governments. It also must be approved by the Schuman coal-steel community.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden presented the plan last March. It is designed to tie closer together Britain, the Scandinavian countries and other nations which are members of the Council of Europe but are not associated with the Schuman coal-steel poll.

Truman Is Labelled As 'Hatchet Man'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican national chairman, called President Truman "the hatchet man of the 1952 campaign" today and said he was giving "a degrading and disgusting performance" that will make votes for Eisenhower.

Speaking at a National Press club luncheon, Summerfield said Truman is a "peewee Ickes who has lowered the great office of the presidency to the level of the cheapest politics."

He was referring to the late Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, who denounced the Republicans with his sharp-tongued oratory in several previous presidential campaigns.

Vote Reveals Bevan's Trade Union Strength

MORECAMBE, Eng., Sept. 30 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan rocked the Labor party's Old Guard today with a voting victory that knocked two Moderates off the National Executive committee and unmasked Bevan's strength even in old line trade unions.

The tough-talking Leftist's forces in the party's Constituency wing—the section made up of local labor parties and clubs throughout the nation—ousted ex-foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and former Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton with a bumper vote.

The seats went to two of Bevan's lieutenants, foreign affairs expert Richard Crossman and Harold Wilson. They "took a walk" from the former Labor Government with Bevan the past year in protest against watering down of Socialist principles and have followed him since in a strongly anti-American line.

The Constituency delegates also voted Bevan back to membership on the Executive along with his three sidekicks, Mrs. Barbara Castle, Tom Driberg and Ian Mikardo.

THE SEVENTH seat allotted to the Constituency wing was filled by James Griffiths, former colonial secretary and wary middle-roader.

The victory still left the Bevanites in the minority on the 27-seat Executive, but it showed the followers of ex-Prime Minister Clement Attlee that the fiery Welshman has a big and growing support in the party's non-trade union membership.

COAL INDUSTRY REACHES TERMS WITH UMW CHIEF

Few Southern Holdouts Given Exemption From Strike for Day or Two

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Virtually all the Southern soft coal industry came to terms today with John L. Lewis and the few holdouts were given "a day or two" exemption from strike action by the United Mine Workers.

Acceptance of the union's terms prevented a general strike in Dixie mines. The strike had been set for tomorrow, when the old contract ends.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, signed with Lewis on the same terms which the UMW leader succeeded in getting from the bituminous industry.

Moody said a few individual companies in his association were holding out, "but in my opinion most of them will be straightened out within the next few days."

Lewis, too, said he hoped and expected the few Dixie holdouts to sign soon. The union boss said they would be spared from a strike for "the next day or two," while the owners make up their minds.

Lewis indicated that Moody had signed for more than 100 million tons of the Southern group's 110 million annual production. It was reported the holdouts' annual production was only four million tons.

Among the holdouts, it was learned, are the Island Creek Coal company, Huntington, W. Va., and the Logan county (W. Va.) Coal Operators' association.

The Southern group had faced an old dilemma. Once again, Lewis had won an agreement from Northern and Western producers which the Southerners felt was too costly. But they had little choice.

The contract terms, which Lewis established the Schuman coal-steel won from the North and handed community as a model for relations with other communities, such as the budding European Defense Community.

There was one abstention on the roll call—that of Italy's Giuseppe Caron. He objected that the "Eden Plan" would create confusion in the whole effort to get European nations together as a team.

Earl Browder, Wife Are Seized by FBI

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Earl was ousted in 1946 as general secretary of the Communist party in this country. In a squabble over Mary-Lenin principles as applied in World War II. Ten years earlier, he had run for president on the Red ticket.

Although kicked out of the party, Browder has maintained to this day that he still is a Communist.

He came into court in a wrinkled gray suit and carrying a beat-up felt hat. His luxurious mustache has turned gray and his back is slightly bent. He seemed nervous.

Browder was arrested by FBI agents in front of a Manhattan apartment house.

HIS WIFE, Raisa Irene Browder, 55, was seized at the Browder home in Yonkers, N. Y. She wore a beret, a plaid jacket, gray skirt and moccasins. A thin, graying woman, she spoke with a marked accent. Like her husband, she appeared fidgety.

Browder has a criminal record dating back to World War I, when he served two years in Leavenworth for conspiring to influence young men to violate the Draft act of 1917. He also paid a $1000 fine for conspiracy to influence counts, could draw 20 years and the bank's president, who said the bank's president will take up the question of possible tax reduction and the business outlook for banks.

She and Browder were married 5-day convention will take up the question of possible tax reduction and the business outlook for banks.

Alfred Browder entered the US illegally from Canada in 1933. She was ordered deported in 1940 but four years later the order was lifted. She went to Canada and returned here legally on a Russian passport.

New Movie Technic Named 'Cinerama' Compared to First Time on Roller Coaster

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Perhaps the experience will recall the first time you swooped down in a fair grounds roller coaster. Or when, on a first airplane flight, the pilot suddenly went into a side slip.

Those first sensations, combined with the scenic effects of a motion picture production, are the combination of Cinerama, a three-dimensional film process which made its formal bow to Broadway audiences this week.

This first film is entitled "This is Cinerama" because it is, in fact, the introduction of a new motion picture process. It is not yet a film with a plot except what suggestions the audience may give to what they see on the screen. The Grand Canyon of Colorado, the Cypress Gardens of Florida, the triumphal scene of "Aida" at La Scala Grand Opera in Milan are the themes for this new full dimensional sight picture at the Broadway theater.

The Cinerama film requires a cylindrical screen about six times the normal size of the usual movie screen. Theater boxes must be moved out to accommodate it. The overall screen is 63 feet across the top curve and 23 feet high.

Although the screen is concave, the light reflections bounce off and disappear behind the screen so that it appears to be a flat, solid picture to the audience.

THE SOUND TRACKS on the Cinerama film were recorded separately during the filming at seven widely separated positions for perfect synchronization.

If the audience sees a motor boat or an airplane darting across the wide spread screen, they first hear the motors coming from off stage as if they were actually where the camera is focused on the horizon.

The roar of the motor grows in intensity as the boat speeds onto the first visual side of the cylindrical screen. As the boat moves into the center the sight of the boat and the sound of the motors are the same as if the audience was on the

Prizes, Dance Show Mark Ladies Night

Prizes for ladies and a professional variety show were included on the Kivianis ladies' night agenda last night.

Fifty couples watched a team kick through a Dutch dance in wooden shoes and fluorescent clothing. All lights in the Elks' home dining room were turned out during the performance.

Kivianis brought small gifts for their partners. Ladies drew numbers as they entered the meeting. Numbers then were matched with numbers on gifts.

A turkey dinner preceded entertainment at 6:30 o'clock.

river bank only a few yards away.

At a recent preview of the Cinerama at Oyster Bay, Long Island, Fred Waller explained how the third-dimensional cinerama film was invented.

"MY FATHER was one of the first commercial photographers in New York," said Waller.

"I stumbled onto Cinerama," he said, "although it was really the outgrowth of that old saw about necessity being the mother of invention. During the last war I was doing some work on devices for the Armed services that would simulate accurately the visual and auditory experiences of a man in battle. Cinerama really comes from a device to make gunners feel like they were actually in combat."

The Cinerama film, as seen now, is something bordering on a travelogue. But its first showing points the way towards possible technical changes in the entertainment world, especially when they begin filming these limitless spectacles which can use such a "confined" space as the Grand Canyon for a setting.

Cinerama pictures will require some changes in the physical setup of stages where this new film technique can be shown. At the moment it can be shown only in the New York and London theaters where these stages have been changed to accommodate the enlarged film screen required.

OK by State Sought For School Building

Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of Pottstown schools, left for Harrisburg yesterday to seek approval from State authorities for the proposed $350,000 new elementary school in the West End.

With him were final preliminary plans to be submitted to the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Department of Labor and Industry. Dr. McCormick also will submit application forms covering the total cost to the public instruction department.

Prior to his departure, the school superintendent said it would take the State a minimum of six weeks to process the application.

State approval will clear the way for local school authorities to proceed with the construction of the new school under the financial plan voted at the last school board meeting Sept. 8.

It was unanimously decided at the last meeting to finance the project through local authority rather than with a referendum bond issue.

One of the reasons given for this action was that while an authority would have to pay a slightly higher interest rate than the school district would with a bond issue, this difference would be more than balanced by the financial assistance the State would give an authority-financed school.

Borough Defendant To Be Tried Monday For Assault, Battery

Montgomery county criminal court next week will include one case involving a borough defendant and will draw the services of 32 area jurors.

Stanley J. Drabinsky, 32 Myrtle street, Penn Village, will face assault and battery charges in court room Monday.

Charges were preferred against Drabinsky by a neighbor this past June. He was accused of beating his children.

Local jurors include Elam Ackerman, West High street; Stowe: Sara Andes, Limerick; Betty Bleacher, 68 South Keim street; Charles E. Boettger, 119 West Seventh avenue; Trappe: Edna Boyer, Red Hill; Eleanor Boyer, 212 East street.

Also, Pauline Brownback, Main street; Trappe: Josiah Bucher, Pottstown RD 3; Mary A. Christman, Second street, Pottstown; Edith Clark, Collegeville RD 2; the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, Gilbertville RD 1; Horace S. Ebert, 178 Evans street; John S. Fetterolf, 750 Spruce street, Royersford.

Also, Oswin Geisler, 506 Evans street; Elizabeth Hallman, Pottstown; Howard Hason, Frederick; Klara H. Hill, 265 Lee avenue; Kathryn Hunsberger, 262 Walnut street; Saria Keim, Sanatoga; Morris Krause, East Greenville; Edith Markley, Highland terrace, Schwenksville.

Man Slightly Injured When Vehicle Is Hit

A Pottstown man was slightly injured yesterday when the station wagon he was driving was struck by a truck at High and Adams streets.

Stanley R. Stetler, 111 West Walnut street, was taken to the office of Dr. C. B. Lerch, where he was treated for minor injuries following the mishap at 2:40 p. m.

Stetler said the accident occurred as he was traveling east on High street and the truck pulled out from the curb and struck his vehicle.

Peter Pinder, 817 Little Vine street, Stowe, driver of the truck, was not injured.

The station wagon, belonging to the Spicer division of the Dana corporation, suffered damages of the right side and front, while the truck's left front door, left front fender and running board were dented.

Answers Wanted To Costello Questions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-Del.) urged the Government today not to deport Frank Costello, New York racketeer, until it got the answers to these questions:

"1. Has the Treasury department given Frank Costello's tax account a thorough going-over and have all the outstanding assessments been collected?"

"2. Who is responsible for this evidence, upon which he is now apparently being deported, lying dormant in the (Justice) department files for the past 27 years?"

"3. Who in official circles has been giving Mr. Costello and the other racketeers of this country their protection?"

The answers might be illuminating, Williams said, and Costello could be an important witness at trials "of some of our former key Government officials." The Delaware Senator did not elaborate this point.

Deadline Announced For First Aid Course

The East Coventry township civilian defense unit's nine-week first aid course began last night, but an official reported it still is not too late for more applicants to register.

The official said 7 o'clock Tuesday night will be the deadline for registration for the weekly classes in the township consolidated school.

Classes begin at 7 p. m. and end at 9 p. m. every Tuesday. Instructing the course are Mrs. Maud Ackerman, 265 Prospect street; Gerald Yerger, 467 Farmington avenue; and Ned Simpson, 235 Henry street.

The instructors are approved Red Cross first aid teachers.

Coal Dealers Meet In Philadelphia on Price Boost Issue

A Pottstown coal dealer said last night he will know tonight whether a recently announced boost in the ceiling price of a ton of coal will be felt by borough coal users.

G. F. Clouse, 799 Franklin street, said he will meet tonight in Philadelphia with other members of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Merchants' association to discuss the Office of Price Stabilization's approval of the increase.

The OPS announced Monday it had approved a 35 cents per ton hike in the ceiling price of anthracite coal, 25 cents a ton for soft coal and 30 cents per ton for lignite coal, coke briquette, packaged fuel and sea coal.

"I'm not prepared to say whether or not the dealers will increase their prices," Clouse said. "Our association's board of directors meets in Philadelphia tonight and we will be considering the OPS increases."

CLOUSE SAID he probably would be able to report on the future price of the fuel after tonight's meeting.

The OPS said the ceiling increases were approved because retailers' gross earnings, as determined by a nationwide survey, have gone down.

Since imposition of the present ceiling on retailers Jan. 25, 1951, it has been reported, the price of coal at the mines increased $1.30 a ton and three freight rate increases have hiked retailers' delivery costs by 12 percent.

There are but two ways of paying debt—increased industry in raising income, increase of thrift in laying out.—Thomas Carlyle.

More Money, Less Left

AS everybody knows, the national income is higher than it ever was.
So are wages and prices. The two have a habit of moving pretty much in unison.
So are taxes.

Armies of people are earning two or three times as much as in the prewar era.
Yet a great many Americans, despite this statistical prosperity, are going deeper and deeper into debt. Higher incomes have been offset and then some by higher outgo.

A Chicago steelworker earning more than $5000 a year is worried and in debt. The strike intensified his troubles, but he had them before it was called.

A Detroit couple earning $6800 has cut its entertainment budget in half and hasn't saved anything for over a year.

A $20,000 a year executive has no debts outside of charge accounts and a big mortgage, but thinks he may have to buy a new fur coat for his wife on the installment plan.

A San Francisco stenographer said she's always $50 behind, and that her last vacation put her $250 in the red.

These cases square with Federal Reserve Board figures on outstanding consumer credit. When last August began, the total was $21,200,000,000—a record—which marked a $2,000,000,000 jump in one year.

They also fit in with a Bureau of Labor Statistics report, covering the 1950 financial experience of families in various income brackets in 91 communities. During that year the average family in this group had income after taxes of $4500 and spent $4700, for a $400 deficit.

A superficially confusing aspect to the picture is found in the fact that savings, as well as debts, are also at record levels—the commerce department finds that they were rising at the annual rate of $16,500,000,000 during the second quarter of this year.

That is accounted for, in part, because "this definition of savings, of course, includes a lot of things many people wouldn't consider savings, such as repayment of debts on consumer goods—so the bigger such debts, and the more the repayments, the more the 'savings'." Also the 50 cent dollars make larger totals.

Lots of people are getting along nicely and are staying out of debt. A number are good managers, some in modest income brackets, who have more possessions than ever and still are making both ends meet. But they seem to be exceptions to the rule.

Here is one fly in the ointment of this depreciated money era, and various developments substantiate it.

For instance, the steel strike made a hole in automobile production. Yet this scarcity of cars, which some dealers thought would bring in a flood of eager searchers for new machines, was accompanied by a scarcity of buyers. Save for a small handful of makes and models, no one has to wait for the new car of his choice, despite the drop in factory output.

To sum up, most of us have many more dollars to rattle around than we ever had before—but they don't go very far. Many of us are substantially worse off, if we make an honest accounting, than in times when prices, taxes and incomes were all much lower.

The Surgeons' Campaign

NOT for the first time, the American College of Surgeons has denounced the evil practice of fee-splitting in the medical profession.

Fee-splitting works this way: A doctor calls in a surgeon for assistance in a case, and both bill the patient, but the surgeon kicks back part of his fee to the general practitioner who gave him the case. And there are devious variations.

What is wrong with that? Are not kick-backs, discounts and rebates a common business practice? The answer is that in business, the buyer may beware—the deal is his responsibility. But in medicine, the vital decision as to a patient's health is not his but his doctor's. A patient does not want any "deal" to affect such important professional decisions.

The American Medical Association has said that when fee-splitting enters professional service relationships, "the practice is undesirable in some areas, doctors admit." The College of Surgeons' campaign against it needs support among physicians and the public alike.

Ninth Warder Praises Plan For School

Likes School Plan

To the Editor: I think the borough school board should be congratulated for deciding to have the new elementary school out our way built through one of those school authorities rather than by putting it on the ballot for a bond issue.

I think almost everybody in town is agreed that our children should have schools that are not old and overcrowded. For that reason, building the school should not be allowed to become tied up with politics, either national or local.

As I understand it, having an authority will mean more work and more headaches for the school board, but they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have done the wisest thing.

WASHINGTON

U.S. Labor Leaders Laud Taft-Hartley Law Abroad

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—The official spokesmen for organized labor in foreign countries said an entirely different tune from current AFL-CIO denunciations of the Taft-Hartley Act and political believers in that controversial legislation, including General Eisenhower.

Although Governor Stevenson's campaign demand for repeal induced the AFL to break a 71-year-old precedent by endorsing him, the so-called "slave labor law" is never mentioned outside the United States as a barrier to the unions' growth and progress.

On the contrary, the Green-Murray overseas missionaries recite the many gains they have achieved since the law's enactment in 1947—five million new members, peak wages, shorter hours, pension and welfare funds. The workingmen's condition is always described at these international exchanges as utopian.

Ironically, in view of the Stevenson endorsement and labor leaders' great influence at the White House, their traveling delegates always emphasize that they won their finest successes because their movement is wholly "nonpolitical."

EXPLOITATION: A labor delegation has recently returned from a visit to Peru and Chile, where there are large American interests in copper and other essential minerals. The group consisted of responsible officials of the AFL and the CIO and United Mine Workers.

After denouncing what they called the "ruthless exploitation" of South American workers by US firms, which may have stimulated anti-Uncle Sam feeling, they sharpened the contrast by telling of the power and position of John L. Lewis' miners. This was before the recent wage boost of $1.90 a day.

They described how labor had become strong through collective bargaining, a key provision of the T.H. Act. They elaborated on the benefits flowing from such bipartisan and non-political achievements as welfare and retirement plans, social security, minimum wage laws, etc.

There was no mention of the law which, according to President Truman, was passed as "the first step in a gigantic Wall Street conspiracy to smash the labor union movement."

"DIPLOMATS": These "diplomats in overalls," to use Stevenson's characterization, then gave advice on how similar advances might be won by South American unions.

"The nonpolitical stand of the American labor movement," reads an account of this visitation, "as exemplified by the policy of reward our friends and defeat our enemies," was repeatedly emphasized in all our talks, and was, in our opinion, the subject that aroused the greatest interest and approval.

"The emphasis that we put on a united labor movement, based on an absolute independence of any political party, foreign ideology or government control, left a strong impression."

Latin audiences may have been impressed by this admonition against tying labor to a party, a candidate or an administration. But returning delegates soon discovered that Messrs. Green and Murray were not impressed.

The average Congressman's annual expenses amount to about $16,000 or $19,000 more than his $15,000 income. The Nixon predicament, which has focused attention on national officials' financial dealings, may lead to legislation raising the general salary level on Capitol Hill.

For one who makes politics and public life his profession, like Nixon, there are natural demands on his purse. He must dress well. He must entertain certain people, especially touring constituents. If he does not kick in generously to charities and campaigns here and back home, his reputation as a "light-wad" may cost him his seat.

In short, he must keep up, not with the Joneses, but with his office. And Washington is an extremely expensive place to live.

The figure of $20,000 and $25,000 has been suggested as a more satisfactory salary. The larger sum is favored by many students of political science who have explored the problem. But it is doubtful if the legislators would dare to give themselves such a boost.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

For MR AND MRS. BROWER E. ELLIS
Ludwig's Corner
BECAUSE they were married recently in Elverson Methodist church.

The way has been prepared for new streets in the borough. A rejection now of the highway committee's recommendation would just about wreck the program.

I still say the only way to rebuild streets in the borough is to approve the bond issue.

A detailed plan of streets will be presented at the next meeting of council. Lack of such a plan earlier was the reason given by several councilmen for opposing the program.

If the plan is approved, certainly, every civic minded councilman will go all out in his support of the issue, in his call for better streets in the borough.

If the politicians miff the ball this time, we may never get our streets.

Pottstown can't wait much longer for new streets. It is hurting badly. And if councilmen fail to support the street-improvement bond issue then they will have double-crossed the electorate.
East End NEW CAR OWNER

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Van Heflin Writes:

JUST ABOUT 10 months ago I was sitting in my home in Brentwood, a peaceful and comfortable suburb of what is known as Hollywood, when I received a cable from England. The message was from one Aubrey Baring of Mayflower Productions, a British producer whom I had chanced to meet on a previous trip overseas.

It was an invitation to do a picture for his company to be made mostly in the desert of Algeria. On the one hand, a venture beckoned, but on the other, I could think of any number of reasons for my trepidation.

Enseñado in my home, surrounded by my wife, children and friends, it was no easy matter for me to happily consider a trip of thousands of miles into the desert, working with a British company and unfamiliar methods, bickering with natives in strange tongues, brushing sand out of my eyes, riding that most stubborn of all beasts, the camel, eating goat's meat when we could get that, and a number of other such happy circumstances.

I wasn't fooled by the glamor of the thing. You see, during the war I had spent some time in North Africa. No, any way you looked at it, it was a tough undertaking. So, I sent a return cable to Baring with just one word: "Yes!"

TEN MONTHS later, back home and looking at the adventure in retrospect, I don't regret a single minute of it.

To get to the location and make the picture, I believe I used every conceivable means of transportation, automobile, train, ship, plane, truck, jeep, donkey, and finally, finally, that ubiquitous desert beast, the camel.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DELLA T., 19, is an introverted, friendless coed.

"Dr. Crane, you tell us to pay compliments to those around us if we want to win friends," she protested.

"But I don't like the people around me, so it seems very insincere to pay them compliments."

"Is it proper to compliment one's enemies? Wouldn't that be deceitful?"

An attractive personality cannot be built upon deceit. And don't let anybody misquote me or any other psychologist on this point.

But it is not insincere to pay your enemy a compliment. A compliment is simply an honest statement of praise for some virtue or merit that warrants commendation.

Although you may hate an individual, it is still possible for you to pay him an honest compliment on his even, white teeth or his athletic skill or a dozen other assets that he possesses.

A compliment is very different from flattery. It is as honest and objective as a surgeon's scalpel or insulin and other drugs.

A PHYSICIAN may likewise dislike a person but still give him insulin for his diabetes or take out his appendix according to approved surgical methods.

So be objective and you can find virtues even in those you dislike.

(Compliments usually do more good than anything you can employ on the people with whom you come in contact.)

REGARDLESS of your own mood or sourced outlook on life, learn to analyze your associates for their goodpoints, and then compel yourself to pay them compliments thereon.

Even if you must grit your teeth and literally force those words of honest praise across your lips, do it anyway! Rule your emotions by your brain. Be scientific as the physician.

Pay compliments even to your enemies, for that procedure will soon convert enemies into friends.

The Bible says we should pray for our enemies and do good to those who hate us.

Let me add that we should compliment those whom we dislike or hate, for such a psychological procedure will actually produce modern miracles.

Oh, I've had to grit my teeth to force a compliment across them, since it is not natural to give praise to our foes. But after we compliment them, they soon compliment us in return and ultimately we become real friends.

For we cannot think ill of those who think well of us!

Dislikes DST

To the Editor: Daylight Saving Time always has been a pain in the neck. I'm certainly glad to be on God's time again.

I never could figure out why man had to tamper with time. They say you save time. That's a big laugh.

This time saving was a device to help the Farmer. So the farmer gets up in utter darkness and works his head off late into the night. Daylight saving just doesn't make sense.

I don't know why this country can't retain standard time the year round. They do in the South and a larger percentage of the people in the South earns its livelihood in the fields than in the North.

Daylight saving is just a device for the city slicker. It is an excuse for him to loiter in the sunshine a little longer. But it never made a particle of sense.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30—An enterprising "undies" manufacturer sent Jane Russell a bra with built-in falsies... something like carrying chianti to Cucamonga... I wonder what she'll do for her role as Tallulah's agent in the movie, "Main Street to Broadway," since Tallulah has never had, nor needed, an agent. You know, of course, that she prefers to be called by her first name only, Tallulah, which pulls her in the same class with Lassie... Now about this Jose Ferrer-Rosemary Clooney romance: Rosemary's ready to start "Girls Are Here to Stay," with Bob Hope. She's also appearing on radio and TV shows, making records, and planning a personal appearance tour. Joe gets off his knees and on his feet the end of the week, completing his role in "Moulin Rouge." Then he flies to New York on Oct. 8, from London, to confer with Jack Hyllon who will co-produce three plays in London this Winter with Ferrer directing, and casting the plays as well as co-producing. While in Manhattan Joe will rehearse Van Heflin for the road company of "The Shrike." Then he flies to Mexico City to get a good look at the bullfights for his lead role in "Matador." Then he returns to London to stage the three plays, "Cabin in the Sky," "Stalag 17," and "The Shrike." By this time it's next Spring and he has to go to Spain to star in the film version of "Matador." Where's the romance?

THEN TOO, American actors have a responsibility to picture-goers everywhere. Because their films are so widely distributed, they may be as well-known in Bou Saada, Algeria, as in Peoria, Ill. Naturally, we hear this, but an actor can't experience it first hand until he actually makes the trek. I must confess it's a surprising and somewhat thrilling experience. Therefore, I think the American actor owes it to these foreign fans to further entrench himself with them by identifying his personality with surroundings familiar to them.

RUTH ROMAN and Mort Hall expect their addition in about six weeks. Bob Cummins will get writer as well as star credit on the "My Hero" teleplay series. Glad to hear that Warner's make-up expert Gordon Bau has developed a new rouse bringing a rosy glow to the cheeks. He calls it "winter blush."

BAD FALL—Luman Walters, son of J. Wesley Walters, 34 East Second Street, yesterday fell 12 feet from a roof and landed on his head in a large pile of tin.

LOSES PACER—Irvin Naez, the popular hackman, lost a valuable black pacer horse. The equine was ill with liver fever. Drs. Davidheiser and Gilbert tried in vain to save the animal which had to be killed.

PASTOR DIES—Rev. J. F. Helme, 81, died at his home in Parkersburg, after a four-year illness. He entered the ministry in 1865 in Red Bank, Armstrong county. For 30 years he was pastor of the Coventry, Harmonyville and Parkersburg Brethren churches.

BODY FOUND—The lifeless body of Joseph Marshall, 51, of 232 High Street, was found near the Mill Park race track.

CROSS DOG—William Firth Jr., King and Charlotte street, and Billie Van Buskirk, Walnut street near York, were bitten about the arms and legs by a dog while the little boys were playing football.

OCTOBER 1, 1942
COLD WAVE—This section has been having a record breaking cool wave. On September 29 the temperature here was, 34 degrees with 24 in the rural sections and ice on ponds and pools.

HEADS DEMOS—Isaac Thomas, of The Hill School, was elected campaign manager by the Democratic Executive committee in this county at a meeting in Norristown. He succeeds Earl Newton, also of Pottstown.

NO "HAYSEEDS"—"A farmer is no longer a hayseed but a man of improvement," declared Howard Ziegler, past master of the Montgomery county Pomona Grange, in an address to the New Hanover Grange at the annual booster night ceremonies.

Garages Switch... Stirs Memories...

★ SWITCH—There've been lots of goings-on in the garage and gasoline station realms. Melvin and Melvin Jr. Guest, who operated the Up Town Garage at King and Buttonwood streets for several months, are moving out. Former operators of the Ramble Inn station in North Coventry township at the intersection of Highway Routes 100 and 63, the Guests, father and son, are taking over the Atlantic gasoline station at High and York streets. This was operated for years by the late Ralph Gallows, and in recent months by Earl Strange Jr. Taking over the management of the Up Town garage will be Stanley A. Skean, 145 Beech street, a former executive of the Pottstown Manufacturing company. South Pottstown. The Up Town garage is owned by the National bank. It is used by the Bell Telephone company to house its motor vehicles.

RESPONSE—The old school days photo published in The Mercury of Mrs. Otis James, 314 Second avenue, Royersford, who now is one of the area's young grandmothers, stirred memories for many of her classmates of elementary school days, and already has brought her letters from two of her onetime classmates. The two who wrote were Mrs. Kathryn Hatfield Fridinger, Douglassville RD 2, and Mrs. Alice Smith Freish, Pottstown RD 1. "I was just so thrilled to hear from them," Mrs. James said, "I hadn't heard from them since our school days. I sat right down and wrote them both."

★ CLOSE—The Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, astonished his congregation the other Sunday when he told them he was close to death by drowning on his summer vacation. He recited the details in his sermon. The recital caught most of the listeners off guard because of its matter-of-factness and as an illustration to keep cool under pressure. The Rev. Frantz was boating when the craft was overturned. Unable to swim, he managed to tread water until pulled ashore by his sons. Pvt. Ralph F. Murcia, son of Mrs. Grace Murcia, 820 Montrose avenue, Stowe, completed Army processing at Ft. Meade, Md., and was assigned to Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

TREND—Maybe it's not in the offing for Pottstown, but in some towns big food chains and supermarkets have taken to selling TV sets and refrigerators along with hamburger, canned goods and soap powder. Others find hosiery, towels, and children's apparel profitable. At least one big chain now stocks shoes right next to the frozen-food department. Big question: Are the supermarkets becoming small-scale department stores? Too early to tell, but you can be sure there will be a mild revolution in the retail business if the practice should spread says the magazine "Changing Times."

★ START—Jack Binder, the veteran Pottstown reporter, mentioned "stogie" as he lit a cigar, and that started a chain of thought. "Stogie" as the name for a long, thin cigar started because the Conesinga valley in Lancaster county is the original home of the Conesinga wagon, prototype of the prairie schooner. Drivers of the wagons smoked cigars and the name Conesinga became shortened to stogie. GIVE AWAY DEPT—English beagle, year old, female, Peter Dori, 520 West Race street, Stowe, phone 2088. Fox terrier, year old, female, Mrs. Horace Fries, Pottstown Star Route, phone Puchtown, 3702. Rabbit dogs, two months old, John Rudy, Pottstown RD 3, phone 4139-R-4.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IN ATOMIC attacks, we now know that many people are exposed to health hazards from radiation sickness. But even before the atomic bomb was invented, this disease was a recognized industrial hazard in industries that handled radioactive materials.

Radioactivity, also known as nuclear radiation, is the outstanding difference between an atomic bomb and other high explosive bombs. In the Japanese explosions, about 15 percent of the injuries were due to nuclear radiation.

The great heat, however, causes a much greater number of injuries. At the instant of explosion, it is said to reach the temperature of the sun.

This heat is released from ultraviolet and infrared rays of extremely high intensity—radiation which produces enough heat energy to ignite clothing almost a mile from the explosion. Thus in case of an atomic attack, it can be expected that cases of severe burns would outnumber those of radiation sickness.

On the other hand, the nuclear radiation can attack the body in several ways, and lasts for some time after the explosion. It can cause extreme harm to the body by penetrating the skin from the outside.

Most radiation sickness is due to external hazards of this type. There are also internal hazards from breathing vapors, or eating foods that have been made radioactive.

Here are a few of the things a person can do to protect himself from radioactivity after an explosion. Do not drink or eat anything that has been exposed to the radiation. Wear clothing made with no pockets and few seams, since dust collects in these areas.

The first three days after a person has been exposed to dangerous amounts of radiation he becomes sick, with nausea and vomiting, and a general listless feeling.

Then he starts to feel better until the tenth or fourteenth day. Shortly after this he may develop severe bleeding, diarrhea, and severe anemia. There is also a tendency for the white blood count to fall sharply.

Catholic Bible Has 8 Books Reworded

Publication Monday of the first volume of the new Roman Catholic translation of the Holy Bible will give to American Catholics a modern style and vocabulary in a scriptural work derived by Catholic scholars from original manuscript sources.

It was urged and inspired in 1943 by Pope Pius XII in his encyclical "Divino Afflante Spiritu" wherein he told Catholic scholars that original Scriptural texts had "more authority and greater weight" than subsequent translations, revisions of which have been in use for 200 years.

For the first time in history, Catholic scholars of the Catholic Biblical Association under the patronage of the Episcopal Committee of the Conference of Christian Doctrine headed by eight bishops retranslated the Bible from the original Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek manuscripts. In so doing they enjoyed the advantages of a greater volume of manuscripts, as well as advances in textual criticism which were not available to St. Jerome who made the first official Latin translation of the Bible.

The need for a more accurate version prompted the American Catholic clergy to begin in 1926 a revision—not a new translation—of the New Testament which came out in 1941. They had started their work on the Old Testament when the Papal encyclical caused them to abandon the project and undertake an entirely new translation. The Book of Genesis was published in 1948 and Psalms in 1950 as forerunners of the work. Next week's publication of eight books of the Old Testament will mark the completion of the initial volume of the Catholic Bible.

The remainder of the Old Testament will require another three or four years of labor. As each portion of the work is finished and checked it will be printed and published by the St. Anthony Guild Press in Paterson, N. J., comprising three volumes in all. In addition, the priests have started a fresh translation of the New Testament which is to follow.

centered life in church, home and country.

"Who can measure the influence of the Scriptures on the many worthwhile benefits of our Western Civilization?" he asked.

"We must not forget that our popular education and the light that it brings to our people was largely instituted in this country so that they would be able to read the Scriptures.

He pleaded for an intelligent faith, "rooted in the word of God," and pointed out that worldly tyrannies deny man's divine origin and destiny in order that they may enslave mankind.

"But you cannot enslave a Bible-reading people," he added quoting from Horace Greeley.

THE SPEAKER pointed out that such men as William T. Deane, who turned at the stake for giving the Bible to the people in their own language, and compared such practices with the free circulation of the Word today.

Referring to the vast research and scholarship that has gone into the preparation of the Revised Version, the Rev. Griffiths reminded his hearers that they were the heirs of the great fund of Bible knowledge that has been built up since King James' version was published.

In conclusion, the speaker cited the need for great Bible preachers and teachers.

"We need men and women who know their Scriptures and who will stand by them come what may. Through the Scriptures we have much that is good, not the least of which is our freedom. Let us stand by those Scriptures lest freedom slip from us."

Also on the program was a hymn sung by the congregation that was written especially for the dedication service entitled "The Divine Gift." The choir of Emmanuel Lutheran sang the anthem "Gloria" by Mozart.

The Community Service was sponsored by the Pottstown Ministerial Association.

Those on the committee for arrangements were the Rev. Paul C. Scheerer, pastor of St. John's Reformed and St. Paul's Reformed; the Rev. D. Howard Keiper, pastor of Covenant Church of the Brethren; the Rev. Arthur S. Hanson, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran; the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational; the Rev. # Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

Three floor levels and remote control lighting are modern features of this home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Binder at 353 Rohland street (near Wilson street). There also are traditional touches, such as the light standard out front, which is a replica of the old gas lights in Philadelphia, and three Dutch doors inside. The home was built for them the past year by Allen K. Davidheiser incorporated. The wing at right finished with "cedar shakes" is a light pastel green. The stone is green mostly, with touches of gray and maroon. The roof is a darker green. The king sized garage will have a workshop at left and a laundry at right. There's a breakfast room in the breezeway. The dining room is behind the left picture window.

The 18 by 22 foot living room is a step below the dining room level. Behind the living room is a small porch and green flagstone patio. The wing at right, which has two bedrooms and a bath, is two steps below the living room level. One advantage of the levels arrangement of floors and roofs is that it permits a high living room ceiling. The Binders can turn on a light in every room from either the garage or bedroom around the entire house is a 4 foot flower bed. Binder is a partner in Binder and Binder law firm and the Roy Binder real estate agency. That's Mrs. Binder on the front step.

King James' Bible Changes Explained

The new Revised Standard Version of the King James Bible represents the efforts of ninety scholars working since 1937 to make the Holy Bible more understandable to all men and at the same time to preserve all that is best in the English Bible as it has been known and used through the years.

Sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States, the completed new Holy Bible is the work of a committee of biblical scholars and religious educators headed by Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean emeritus of Yale University Divinity School.

The New Testament was completed in 1945 and published the following year. It has sold more than 2,500,000 copies.

Next week's publication marks the completion of both the New and Old Testaments, with the latter about three times as long as the former.

The new version, which loses some of the poetic roundness and expression of the Elizabethan age, is expected to encounter criticism just as did the English Revised Version of 1881 and 1885 and the American Standard Version of 1901. But in former cases, disaffection did not long endure.

The King James Bible, written by 54 scholars, was started in 1604 at the instigation of King James I of England and was published in 1611. Apparent errors and inaccuracies were rectified in 1881, 1885 and 1901 versions, but still the biblical scholars were not satisfied.

It was their contention that recent discoveries of ancient manuscripts not available to the nineteenth century revisers made it possible for modern scholars better to understand the Biblical languages.

In 1931 fragments of eight Old Testament and three New Testament manuscripts were found, and in 1947 Syrian shepherds found other fragments believed to date from the time of Christ, in a cave by the Dead Sea.

The modern experts found that there were more than 500 English words in the King James Version "used in a different sense from their present day meaning and actual mis-translations were numerous."

Police Arrest Man On Charge of Passing Worthless Checks

A 33-year-old Washington, D.C. man who reportedly has been living in or near Pine Forge recently, was arrested last night for attempting to pass worthless checks in two Pottstown business establishments.

He was arrested on warrants obtained by J. J. Pollock, manager of the Levitz Furniture store, 212 High street, and Paul Erdman, treasurer of the Red Arrow Oil company, 128 High street.

Erdman told Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, Dudley had given the company a $25 check drawn on the Citizens' National Bank and Trust company and the check was returned to Erdman marked "insufficient funds."

Pollock obtained his warrant from Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus of the Seventh ward but no details of the basis for his charge were available last night.

Motor Patrolman Stanley Borzow and Patrolman John G. Pazzetti arrested Dudley at 242 Washington street.

Dudley is in the borough lockup this morning awaiting a hearing before one or both of the justices of the peace, probably sometime today.

2 Licenses Revoked, Assault and Battery Charge Faces Man

Drivers licenses of two Pottstown area motorists were revoked and six others suspended and six others restored from the past Sept. 8 to Sept. 12 the Bureau of Highway Safety reported yesterday.

Those whose licenses were revoked are Earl R. Decker, Pottstown RD 3 and Harry Heck, Pottstown RD 4.

Suspended were the licenses of John W. Yeager, Phoenixville RD 2, George B. Donlevy, Eighth street and Clavhor avenue Collegeville, Donald C. Priyer, Parkerford, Max C. Whitcomb, 118 Main street, East Greenville, Thomas L. O'Connor, Arch and Cedar street, Spring City, and Francis A. Dantonio, Phoenixville.

Those whose licenses were restored are Anita P. Wambold, 353 Bridge street Spring City, Roland Goldenall, Roversford RD 1, Frank Sematis, Phoenixville RD 1, John L. Arms, Apt C 15 Road C, Hildale, Michael I. Schneider, Pottstown Star Route and Leon C. Suavely, Barto RD 1.

Alvin Williams, 21 of 710 Minter street was arrested for assault and battery at 8:20 o'clock last night on a warrant obtained by Lillian Reitenbaugh, address unknown.

He was arrested by Patrolman John Kilin but released at midnight when Edna Stokes, whose address also was not given, posted a $25 bond to assure his appearance at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward at 6:30 o'clock to night.

Williams was arrested in Kelley's office.

It's Great Honor to Win Webelos Badge; Cub Scout Schurr Does It on Birthday

Presentation of a Webelos badge to Dale Schurr, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dale Schurr, Linfield Trappe road, Linfield, and a member of Linfield Cub pack 257 will tell you that receiving the Webelos insignia on your birthday is an even more auspicious occasion.

Yesterday was Dale's 11th birthday and last night's Cubmaster, James G. Crouse, presented the youth his Webelos badge, the highest in Cubbing, at the pack's monthly meeting in the basement of the Linfield Evangelical and Reformed church.

"Webelos" is an Indian word for "trail." The badge marks the end of the Cubbing trail for boys 8 to 11 years old.

Dale was honored by 19 of his brother Cub Scouts, 16 parents, seven pack officials and seven visitors already has begun studying the markings of another trail that of Boy Scouting.

Others to whom Cubmaster Crouse presented awards included Barry Miller and Benjamin Smover Jr. Bear badges, a gold and a silver arrow point each and books to study for earning Lion badges.

Mrs. B. R. Jenkins, care Phone 5404
Hobbs, Del., Phone 7-2503

Dr. Paul Zuch, Jeffersonville, psychologist and teacher in the Evansburg area, was the guest speaker and leader of a meeting held under the auspices of the Mental Health society in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, Collegeville.

The Rev. Alfred Greager, pastor of Trinity church, introduced the motion picture "Palmour Street," which dealt with the growth and maturity of parents in their family relationships and problems, after which Dr. Zuch conducted a highly informative and interesting discussion on the problems presented.

This is the third in a series of such meetings being sponsored by the churches in the Collegeville-Tripple Evansburg area for the purpose of a better understanding of the threefold relationship of the body, mind and spirit. Previous meetings were held in Augustus Lutheran church, Tripple and St. James Episcopal church, Evansburg. Included as leaders in each meeting are a local minister, a local practicing physician and a psychologist or psychiatrist. Dr. Alfred Leher, Collegeville, was to have been the physician assisting at this meeting but was unable to be present.

The fourth meeting in this series is to be held in October at St. Luke's Evangelical and Reformed church, Tripple and the fifth and final meeting in November at the Methodist church, Evansburg. Deacons and leaders will be arranged at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richards and family of Cross Keys road accompanied Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Richards, Collegeville, to Ocean Gate, N. J. They took Mr. Richards' aunt, Mrs. Phoebe Kessel, to her home in Ocean Gate.

Mrs. William Schroeder, Collegeville, was a surgical patient at Memorial hospital, Pointe-aux-Lacs, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lehman and children, Bill, Louise and Cathie, returned home from a week's vacation at Stone Harbor, N. J.

Mrs. Harold Hunsicker, entertained Mrs. Minnie Hunsicker, Mrs. Daniel Meyers, Mrs. George Meyers and Mrs. Anna Morton, Mt. Joy.

Mrs. Willard Klinefelter will entertain members of the local 4-H Capon and Pig club at her home on Level road on Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. Her daughter, Mary Ida, is a member of the club.

Wednesday evening, October 1 at 7:30 p. m. there will be a special meeting of the members of the congregation of the Evansburg Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. Maris H. Griffiths, will outline his pastoral program for Fall and Winter months. At the same time the members will receive further information concerning the general conference planning for the quadrennium of 1952 in the Methodist church. Every member of the fellowship is urged to be present at this very important meeting.

Mrs. Harry Cole (right), Gilbertville, may be a grandmother, but she is far from the stereotypical with white hair who sits meekly in a rocking chair. She will have you know Mrs. Cole became a grandmother two years ago when she was 35 and her daughter, Mrs. William Dengler, Colebrookdale, gave birth to Robert, who is sitting on his mother's lap in the photo above.

NEGOTIATIONS CONTINUE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30 (AP)—Negotiations continued tonight in a final effort to halt a strike of 2300 workers at six major Pittsburgh hotels set for 12 o'clock tomorrow.

Mrs. James Irvine, Wawand road, the assistant den mother for Cub Scout Den 5, Evansburg, is in charge of the den during the hospitalization of the den mother, Mrs. William Schneider. The cub met at her home on Saturday and Michael Scheer was taken in as a new cub. Johnny Winkle Schipack was a visitor. The boys worked on their skill for the pack meeting this week and enjoyed a game of football.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Garlich and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Baecari and sons, Robert and Joseph, and Mrs. Caroline Quintiliani, Brooklyn, N. Y. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Louella Rufe, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rufe and daughter, Maryanne, Mr. and Mrs. Ray DiHenedello and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeBene, Philadelphia.

SPEED is the Killer!

Tragic Lesson!

More than 5,000 children under 14 were killed or maimed on Pennsylvania's streets and highways last year.

Nearly all these children could have been saved from death or crippling injury BY LESS SPEED ON THE PART OF DRIVERS.

School zones are clearly marked. The signs are a command to drivers to SLOW DOWN TO A SPEED THAT WILL ENABLE THEM TO RETAIN CONTROL IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

A YOUNGSTER SOMETIMES APPEARS ON THE ROAD AHEAD JUST AS FROM NOWHERE. EVEN IF YOU ARE TRAVELING SLOWLY, IF YOU RUN OVER THAT CHILD, YOU WERE GOING TOO FAST! DON'T LEARN THIS LESSON BY BITTER TRAGEDY!

Drive well within posted speed limits. Pennsylvania strictly enforces its speed laws.

You can cooperate with us by following the best traffic rule of all—The Golden Rule. Take time to keep our children safe.

This is NOT a license to kill or injure. It will be revoked or suspended for cause.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By IRV ROLLMAN

Football to most people means a Saturday afternoon, wrapped in a blanket, sitting in the stands, cheering the old alma mater on for another touchdown.

But to Edward Y. Good, 818 Franklin street, athletic director for the Pottstown School district, it means making sure the field is in condition, employees are hired, arrangements have been made for the opposing team as well as the home team and a host of other chores which face an athletic director before every game.

But Good is used to it. He likes it. As director of athletics for the school system, he supervises the sports program for all schools in the district. His work recently has been along the line of developing an expanded program to include the grade schools as well as the junior high schools, and to include girls sports.

In addition to his job as athletic director, Good teaches mathematics in the high school and coaches basketball and baseball. He has been teaching in the Pottstown school system since the Fall of 1935. He enjoys teaching as much as he does coaching.

"I don't want to be lopsided about it," he says. "A coach must be a teacher. And I like teaching as well as I like coaching."

Good has been active in Summer sports programs. The past Summer he worked with three different age groups to set up a vacation athletic program in the borough. He supervised the boys' baseball league, the men's soft-ball league and a high school age basketball league. The work kept him going from morning until night.

Good was born in New Britain, Bucks county, in 1912. He attended the township schools and was graduated from Doylestown High school in 1930. He entered West Chester State Teachers college that Fall and was graduated four years later. For one year after graduation, Good did graduate work at Temple university and took extra courses at West Chester to fill in background for elementary teaching.

In 1935 Good was hired by the borough school district. He taught at the junior high school as basketball coach and math instructor. At the same time, he also coached the senior high school track team. He remained in that job for four years and in 1942 he went to the Senior high school and began coaching basketball, baseball and instructing in physical education.

Four years later Good was made mathematics teacher at the Senior high school and named athletic director for the Pottstown School district.

Good describes his homelife and his work as an ideal setup. He lives with girls and works with boys, he says. His main influences outside school are his wife and two daughters, his brother and mother-in-law.

"It's a good combination," Good says. "It tends to keep you balanced."

He says he is often asked about how he would like to have a boy in the family. He says in his work with boys he gets the same compensation.

"If I had a son," he adds, "I'm afraid I might expect too much of him."

One year after he came to Pottstown, Good married Phyllis Loke, of Scranton. He met his wife while in college. Mrs. Good taught grade school in Scranton before coming here in November, 1936, for the marriage.

Good like to work around the house. He is a handy man with tools and has built a number of pieces of furniture. He built a desk for one of his daughters and some outdoor furniture. If he hadn't become a teacher, Good says, he probably would have been a builder or contractor.

Good has been active with the First Baptist church. Currently, he is a deacon there and vice president of the men's Bible class. He belongs to two other organizations in Pottstown, the Rotary club and the Masons, but holds no offices.

After 33 years in police work, George E. Stroup, 51 East High street, finds the work, if anything, is more interesting all the time. In that time, the 58-year-old railroad detective has worked on a number of cases which have tended to provide that variety which has made his life anything but dull.

Stroup began his career in police work following World War I in the Pennsylvania State police. Four years later he went to work for the Reading railroad company and has been working there since. Although his job is essentially that of protecting railroad property against damage and loss and the protection of shipments, he has worked on cases which led to criminal arrests.

Three years ago Stroup and two other railroad police officers arrested a safe-cracking gang in Linfield. The three policemen caught the criminals emerging from the Linfield Fire company, arms loaded with loot, and made the arrest. They had been on the trail of the thieves following a trail of the thieves following a robbery of railroad property.

"The best way to catch those guys," Stroup says, "is to get them in the act. That way, you don't have to do a lot of work building up a case that might fall through."

Stroup is a native of Gettysburg. After one year of high school, he quit and went into the butchering and grocery business. His grandfather backed him in the business. He worked at it from 1909 to 1917.

After war was declared in 1917, Stroup enlisted into the cavalry. He served with Troop L, 14th United States Cavalry until Sept. 23, 1919, when he was discharged from the Army with a corporal's rating.

Six weeks following his discharge, Stroup joined the State police. In his four years with the constabulary unit, he was stationed in Hamburg, Spring Valley and Wyomissing. He worked on one of the biggest robberies this section of the state has ever had—the $180,000 Wyomissing bank robbery.

In 1924 Stroup went to work for the railroad. His home station has always been Reading, but, for the most part, he has worked in sub-stations. He has been in Pottstown for about ten years.

Stroup's one luxury is his dog, Erlo aus der Friedahuette, or Erlo, for short. The dog is a jet black German Shepherd, which because of its training Stroup uses in his work. Erlo was a German war-dog. He was trained by the Germans. Even today, Erlo responds only to commands in the German language.

Stroup has Erlo's German pedigree which lists the trainers and the type of training as well as the ancestry. He has had other dogs in the past, but Stroup says Erlo is the best.

"He's the smartest dog I've ever had," he says. "He's been trained for war work and is a wonderful dog for tracking down and apprehending criminals."

Stroup's work has prohibited him from becoming too active in any organizations. He is a Mason and a member of the American Legion. Until about four years ago, Stroup was on call by the railroad at all times and has had to limit his activities to his work and his dogs.

About two years ago, Stroup was sent to Ephrata on a job. The job involved an investigation which led to the arrest of two railroad employees who stole $12,000 worth of merchandise from the railroad. The job took a lot of work, but Stroup and his partners picked up the guilty pair at 4:30 o'clock one morning—with "the goods."

Although the job as railroad detective is not a dangerous one, a man is apt to get hurt in the line of duty.

In 1948 Stroup suffered a compound fracture of the leg while investigating a train wreck near here. While clambering about the scene on a wet night, Stroup slipped and fell. The injury laid him up for a while, but while he was recuperating, his fellow-investigators rounded up the train-wrecker.

RENT CONTROL ENDS FOR SOME CITIES, TOWNS

Pottstown Among Those Granted Time Extensions; 950 Areas Decontrolled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Rent control ends at midnight tonight except in cities and towns which have asked to keep the curbs another seven months and those listed as critical defense housing areas.

Office of Rent Stabilization officials estimated passage of the deadline would decontrol about 950 areas—with rent raises likely, they said.

But the officials told newsmen that over half of the more than 2100 communities under rent control had taken action to keep the rein on rents.

They figured such action by local governments would retain rent controls for about 12,700,000 of the approximately 20 million people living in rented quarters now covered. An additional 3,200,000 renters, they said, will remain under rent ceilings in special critical defense areas.

RENT CONTROL will continue in Pottstown.

Council has been granted an extension or rent control by Tighe E. Woods, director of rent stabilization.

Borough Secretary William B. Shaeffer read to council at the August meeting a letter from Woods which authorized the extension of control.

Council voted to request the extension at the July meeting after Solicitor C. Edmund Wells reported a letter of request was required to maintain control.

Last midnight was the deadline for resolutions by local governments to keep the curbs until next April 30 under a law passed by the last Congress. Rent control officials said they believed they had received notice of about all such actions though there still may be a few belated reports and a small rise in the total of those still covered. Up to tonight, ORS officials said, they had reports of action to keep controls in 128 of the 181 rental areas. That represents some 3,900,000 of the six million rental units now controlled.

RENT CEILING administrators have said surveys show that in the past decontrol meant an average rent increase of 23.1 percent. They have predicted similar rises for areas decontrolled now. The National Association of Real Estate Boards said in a statement today that "to bring rentals into line with other commodities in the consumers' market, some rents naturally will rise. Many, however, will remain unchanged."

But the association said that where rentals do increase they "will do so only moderately, on the average, as they have in cities which freed themselves months ago."

The statement said that in Los Angeles the average rent rise a year after decontrol was 9.4 percent, and the highest increase among the cities studied was 27 percent in Birmingham.

THERE ARE 120 cities and towns now on the list of defense areas where the Government can keep rent controls on its own until next Spring. About a dozen more have been declared critical and are awaiting action by the rent stabilization office. The office decides the date for application of control in such areas, and the date to which maximum rents must be rolled back.

Among areas in the waiting group include Denver, Colo., declared critical yesterday just after the city council had voted to let rent controls expire, and the Portsmouth-Chillicothe area of southern Ohio where a huge new atomic energy plant soon will be started.

Membership in U. S. Protestant churches increased about 65 percent from about 31,500,000 in 1926 to more than 52 million in 1952.

Secrecy Stripped From Gun Made to Shoot Atomic Shells

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Army has stripped the secrecy mantle from a huge gun made to shoot atomic shells at enemy troops on a battlefield 20 miles away.

At the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds the other day the Army showed off two of the guns to visitors.

1. Rack up its year-old claim that it really has its own atomic weapons, just as the Air Force and the Navy have planes to carry atomic bombs.

2. Show that the 85-ton gun can travel highways, wheel off to travel cross-country to wherever an Army division commander wants an atomic barrage put down, and then go into action within 20 minutes.

THE VISITORS came away from the demonstration convinced that the atomic cannon now appears ready to join the other artillery of the Army which, the old song says, can roll "over hill, over dale, along the dusty trail."

Whether or not it so far has fired an actual atomic shell no one except a few experts in the Army and Atomic Energy commission can say. And they decline to talk on that point.

It is dual-purpose, can shoot either conventional shells or atomic charges; its aim is four times more accurate at long range than the best guns when World War II started; it is not land-bound despite its size and weight but can be loaded into a landing ship and transported to the scene of an amphibious operation to give terrific fire support to the landing forces.

Limerick Man Fights To Revoke $10 Fine For Driving Violation

A Limerick township man will fight to have a $10 fine for driving without a license revoked by Montgomery county courts.

Pearl Alexander Weir, who claims he is in the process of moving from Toccoa, Ga., to Limerick township, yesterday told the court, through his attorney, Robert Truckess, that he was the victim of an injustice in being charged with violating the State Motor Vehicle code.

Weir was charged with driving without an operator's or learner's permit by State Policeman Clem Seroski, of the Norristown barracks, and fined $10 to $20 costs by Limerick Justice of the Peace Frank M. Evans.

He was stopped by the officer as he was driving east on route 422 in Limerick the past June 3. At the time, he claims he had a valid Georgia license.

THE OFFICER maintained, however, he was not properly licensed.

as an operator or as a learner in Pennsylvania and warned him to obtain the necessary permit.

The officer checked with State authorities in July and learned that by July 14 no application had been made by Weir.

As a result, the officer lodged the charge of driving without an operator's license against Weir and Magistrate Evans issued the summons.

The State Police take the position Weir is now a resident of Pennsylvania. Weir contends his township, yesterday told the court, Georgia permit is still valid under the reciprocity arrangement.

WEIR ALSO asks the court to review his case on the claims that he was "improperly convicted on improper evidence", the magistrate exceeded his authority, the defendant was not taken to the nearest available magistrate; that the warrant was issued beyond the 15-day limit, and that he was charged under the wrong section of the Motor Vehicle Code.

Year's Study Program Set At WMS Conference

The executive board of the Norristown conference, which included representatives from 55 Lutheran churches in Montgomery county, parts of Bucks and Chester counties met yesterday afternoon in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe.

A 'mission study meeting' it was one of the three annual gatherings of the board. At the March meeting, presidents of individual churches present their yearly reports; in November, business is the prime concern of the group after the annual October convention of all the member churches.

The program began with devotions led by the Rev. A. S. Hanson, pastor of St. Peter's. Mrs. J. Fred Miller, president of the conference, presided. Reports were heard from various department heads, who suggest and oversee specific programs in the individual churches.

MRS. ROBERT HORNE then took over in her capacity as leader of the mission study program which will be followed with individual variations by member churches throughout the rest of the year. Her first topic was a review of "African Heritage," a book on mission work in Africa. She then went on to elaborate upon this theme which will have the purpose of educating church members to know what their missions are doing at present and so open further possibilities.

After a luncheon served by St. Peter's Missionary society women, the afternoon session was opened with Mrs. Horne's study program suggestions in the field of home missions. Home missions include work from that done among migrating persons within the United States to that done among the different races represented within the country. The suggested book was "These Rights We Hold".

More business was conducted among which was the decision to buy a mimeograph machine to send to India. Miss Hilda Kaercher, missionary to India from the Norristown conference, when she was home on her recent furlough suggested to the women that such a machine might be of use.

FURTHER reports were heard from representatives who had attended the WMSM Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states held in May.

Mrs. Claude Wagoner, program chairman of the convention of all Norristown conference churches, reported on their progress. To be held all day and in the evening of Oct. 30, the convention will include a congress dinner for business and professional women and mothers who cannot attend during the day.

Speakers will be: Mrs. Wilbur Zeiger, president of the WMSM of Pennsylvania; Miss Freda Hoh, missionary nurse to Puerto Rico; Miss Claire Sullivan, recently returned from China; and Miss Mary-belle Hosterman, missionary nurse on furlough from Liberia, Africa.

Departing Member Feted At Chat-A-While Meeting

A surprise farewell gift was given last night to Mrs. Hazel Pierce, who will leave shortly to join her husband, Pvt. Joseph Pierce, in Fort Eustis, Va., at the meeting of the Chat-A-While club.

The gift was given by Mrs. Grace Raleigh, president, at the meeting held in the home of Mrs. Eleanor Levensgood, 117 North Evans street.

Plans were made to have a mask Halloween party Oct. 23 at the home of Mrs. Ann Yonkovich, 472 Cherry street.

Members present were: Mrs. Janice Dunning, Mrs. Eleanor Dusk, Miss Pearl Nevel, Mrs. Marie Boeshore, Mrs. Lois Rine-well and Mrs. Ruth Elfrigg.

Son's Birthday Celebrated By the John R. Millers

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Miller, 655 North Keim street, honored their son, Mr. John E. Miller, Kentworth, with a party celebrating his 28th birthday anniversary.

Held at Guedagno's grove, Stowe, refreshments and dancing were enjoyed by nearly 40 people from Pottstown, Stowe, Linfield, South Pottstown, Reading and Souderton.

Catholic Church Is Scene Of Gensemer-Ondo Rites

The Rev. Stephen Vleck, rector of Holy Trinity Catholic church, performed the double ring ceremony which united Miss Pearl Mae Gensemer, 341 Spring street, Bethlehem, and Mr. Michael Ondo Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ondo Sr., 409 South street, in marriage. The church was decorated with white pompons and gladioli. Approximately 300 guests watched as Miss Gensemer came down the aisle with her brother, Mr. Leroy Gensemer, who gave her away in marriage. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon over gossamer satin, featuring a jewel neckline and lace over satin bodice. The bouffant nylon skirt over satin had a lace overlay that extended into a deep V in the cathedral-length train. Her chapel-length veil of lace flowed from a tiara of orange blossoms. She also wore a string of pearls.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan, chose a gown of green chintilly lace featuring a decollete neckline, tiny shirred sleeves and lace bodice over taffeta. A lace peplum trimmed the bouffant tulle skirt. She wore matching mitts and an orange blossom tiara with a shoulder length veil.

MISS FRANCES Ondo, maid of honor, wore a gown identical to that of the matron of honor, but in a shrimp color with matching accessories.

The three bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Hatzel, Miss Mildred Torak, Miss Agnes Torak, Miss Baldwin Custer, Pottstown Land, wore gowns styled alike excepting for the color. Featuring strapless bodices with matching tulle, Miss Hatzel wore a high church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Katie Welsh and "Ava Maria" was sung by Mrs. Frances Schwartz. Miss Koon approached the altar, decorated with white gladioli, on the arm of her brother, Mr. John Koon, who gave her away in marriage. She was attired in a princess style gown of white satin featuring a sweetheart neckline, trimmed with brocade feta and tulle, styled with a sweet-heart collar. Floral appliques covered the tulle skirts; and she wore a floral headpiece.

THE BRIDE'S bouquet consisted of white rose buds, white carnations and white pompons with an orchid in the center and streamers, covered with white carnations. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

The best man was Mr. George Torak, and ushers were Mr. William Pahawka, Mr. Joseph Zysay, Mr. George Oister and Mr. Carl Saltzer. Ring bearer was Mr. Stephen Torak Jr.

The mother of the groom wore a navy blue dress with an orchid corsage.

A RECEPTION was held at the Holy Trinity Catholic club and from there the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Quebec and Montreal. Mrs. Ondo Jr. traveled in a blue suit and wore a white orchid. The couple satin slip featured a satin sash in back. Miss Surman carried a spray of carnations.

The gowns of the bridesmaids, Miss Leda Custer, Miss Mary Skokowski and Miss Rose Mary Munger, were styled after that of the maid of honor. The colors were shrimp, yellow and blue, respectively. The flower girl, Mary Louise Pawolowski, wore a dress of lavender. They all carried sprays of carnations.

Best man and ushers were Mr. John Koon, brother of the bride; Mr. Baldwin Custer, Mr. Conner Rehmann and Mr. John Frank.

FOR THE wedding, the mother of the bride chose a brown dress with gold trim, and the mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue dress. They both wore orchid corsages.

A luncheon was served at St. Peter's hall. The couple left for a honeymoon of undisclosed destination. The bride traveled in a light brown suit with brown accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Custer will live at 128 River road, the home of the bride's parents.

Guests attended the wedding from Boston, Mass., Chicago, Ill., Hershey, Shenandoah, Philadelphia, Pottstown and the surrounding areas.

Clark Custer Weds Miss Laura Kocon In Catholic Church

Approximately 350 guests attended the wedding of Miss Laura Kocon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kocon, 128 River road, South Pottstown, and Mr. Clark Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Torak, Baldwin Custer, Pottstown Land, in St. Peter's Catholic church. The Rev. John Koon, rector of St. Peter's Catholic church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Katie Welsh and "Ava Maria" was sung by Mrs. Frances Schwartz. Miss Kocon approached the altar, decorated with white gladioli, on the arm of her brother, Mr. John Kocon, who gave her away in marriage.
